War Scenes In Greece

Greek refugees prepare to board military trucks to return to Konitsa after Government troops successfully defended it against guerrilla attacks. The Communists had hoped to make Konitsa capital of their provisional government. Now the U.S. Aid Mission has agreed to strengthen Greek Government forces at a cost of about $15,000,000.—NEA Radio-telephoto.

Will Freeze Prices If Power Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two cabinet officers disclosed today that if Congress approves stand-by price control power, the administration plans to place price controls on coal, fuel oil, gasoline, all other petroleum products, steel, lumber, textiles and farm machinery.

Secretary of Interior Krug told the Senate banking committee that if a bill to re-establish price controls is enacted, he immediately will order a 60-day "freeze" of retail and wholesale prices for coal, fuel oil, gasoline and other petroleum products.

Secretary of Commerce Harman, also before the banking committee, said price ceilings on steel would be aimed at stamping out what he called the "gray market" in steel—sale of the scarce commodity at abnormally high prices.

Harriman told of plans for ceilings on textiles, lumber and farm machinery.

Pauley Says Not Forced By Stassen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley today prepared to resign from government service with a hot advance denial that he was smoked out by Harold E. Stassen's public needling of his record as a grain speculator.

The California oil man, former Democratic National Committee treasurer and a close friend of President Truman, announced that he is quitting as assistant to Secretary of the Army Royal "some time this month."

In a memorandum to the press, Pauley declared this is in accordance with plans he made known soon after taking the job last Sept. 3.

Greek mountain troops move up from Konitsa to position along the Albanian frontier. Konitsa had been picked as capital for the "provisional government" of the Communist rebels, but it held out against attacks from guerrilla forces.

Railway Wages Talk Breaks Up

MONTREAL (CP)—Representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Employees and five Canadian railways failed to reach a settlement today in conference on the unions' demands for a 35-cent-an-hour wage increase for some 200,000 employees.

H. R. Pettigrove, conciliator appointed by the federal labor department, sat in on the proceedings and said after the meeting that he had "failed to reconcile differences between the parties."

Neither company nor union representatives made any statement.

8,500 Men Idle; Victoria Dealers Caught; Stock Low

CALGARY (CP)—More than 8,500 miners were idle in British Columbia and Alberta today as an unauthorized strike shut down production in all major coal fields in the two provinces.

Nearly 3,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America in B.C., downed tools today to join 5,500 Alberta members in a bid to enforce demands for wage increases.

About 500 miners in three mines in the Edmonton area returned to work early today and it was estimated that about 1,000 miners were working in the big Estevan field in southwestern Saskatchewan and at scattered Alberta pits.

Mines at Nordegg, Cadomin, Michel, Luscar and Mountain Park on the Alberta side of the Crow's Nest Pass and at Fernie, B.C., closed Tuesday night and early today to bring operations there to an almost complete standstill. The Drumheller field was also shut down after miners walked out from eight mines that remained operating yesterday.

Meanwhile Alberta Mines Minister N. E. Tanner and Trade and Industry Minister C. E. Gerhart arrived here from Edmonton today to confer with representatives of the United Mine Workers of America (U.M.W.) to seek a settlement of the dispute. Mr. Gerhart said the government would do everything possible to get the striking miners to return to work pending the findings of a conciliation board.

The B.C. labor department also launched an investigation of the strike. The aim is to determine provincial jurisdiction in the walkout.

Three mines on Vancouver Island, operated by Canadian (Dunsmuir) Collieries Ltd., which supply nearly half of the province's domestic coal, were idle, and mines in the Crow's Nest Pass were reported closed.

Officials of the United Mine Workers of America said the work stoppage was "unauthorized."

Coal Famine Looms In City

A coal famine loomed in Victoria today as some dealers, caught short on supplies when the miners in the Alberta and B.C. coal fields struck, were accepting their last orders today.

One of the city's large suppliers said he had no more coal for sale today, with what he had on hand already sold, and to be delivered by Monday.

"I have been told by my suppliers that there is nothing on the way so there is a famine so far as we are concerned," he said. "The strike came at a very bad time, with not much coal moving during the holiday season."

Another large coal supplier in the city stated that he was more fortunate than most, having about a normal month's supply of coal on hand when the miners struck.

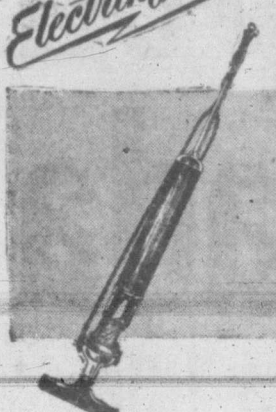

"However, it won't last a month at the rate customers are ordering now," he added. "We are limiting orders to two tons, but are trying to keep them to one ton. We will not cut further, but will send the coal out in one-ton lots until it is gone. Our supplies will only last two or three weeks.

"If the strike runs two or three weeks there will be a definite possibility of a coal famine in Victoria."

The same story was repeated in coal offices all over town, as girls were kept busy answering tele

Widows, Aged, Wounded Veterans Grateful For Food Parcels Sent

Each day's mail continues to bring dozens of letters from Great Britain from recipients of food parcels bought with money contributed to the Mayor's Fund. Pleasure and gratitude at the food gifts are expressed in each. Although it is anticipated that the fund will be closed by early summer, donations are still being received at the City Hall, Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, chairman of the administrative committee, emphasized, and parcels will continue to be sent so long as funds are available.

One lady from South Wales wrote that the pleasure with which her parcel was received "moved both my husband and myself to tears as we unpacked it and found such a lovely and touching Christmas card enclosed."

Another from Manchester, a widow with five small children, reported that "it is just what we needed to help us out," while another from Nottingham asked to be given the name of some individual who had contributed to the fund so she could start correspondence and thank the donor personally.

One lady from Sussex told of the excitement with which her family received the parcel, explaining "it's the first time we have received anything." Her husband lost both legs in World War I and she has a 15-year-old daughter. She recalled the Canadian soldiers in "Sedlescombe during the war. "I wonder if we had any of your men-folk from Victoria?" she queried.

"They were fine lads and at Christmas time they got some chocolate and toys and gave a party to the children under five, and one of the sergeants acted as Father Christmas. I really don't know who enjoyed it most, the soldiers or the children."

A 62-year-old charwoman from Cardiff, South Wales, who supports her bedridden daughter by her efforts was pathetically grateful for her parcel. The letter, written before Christmas, told of her efforts to find out how to use Klum, the powdered milk included in the parcel "because it would be wrong to spoil it after so much trouble has been taken in sending it all these miles." She was consulting with a friend who knew a Canadian who lived in Cardiff. She said she was saving all the contents until Christmas day.

A mother from Torquay who was wounded while manning a gun in the A.T.S. and who is now permanently disabled told how her two children enjoyed the candies included in the parcel.

Former B.C. Author Dies In California Following Accident

Robert Watson, F.R.G.S., novelist, poet, editor, historian and scenarist, former B.C. resident and a frequent visitor to Victoria, died Tuesday at the age of 68 in California, following injuries suffered in a New Year's Eve automobile accident.

Mr. Watson, who had addressed the Victoria Authors' Club on occasion and was in B.C. last year to attend the Canadian Authors' Association convention in Vancouver, had lived at Laguna Beach, Calif., for the past 12 years.

He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and educated at Pollock University and Shawlands Academy, Glasgow. He lived in B.C. from March, 1908 to April, 1923, including 10 years in Vancouver and the rest in Okanagan Valley. He also lived in Winnipeg, Man., for 10 years. He finally went to Hollywood where he became engaged in motion picture work.

Among some of his works as an author were: "My Brave and Gallant Gentleman," "The Girl of O.K. Valley," "Stronger Than His Sea," "The Spoilers of the Valley," "The Mad Minstrel," "Gordon of the Lost Lagoon," "Canada's Fur-bearers" (a children's nature study in verse), "High Hazard" (an Arctic romance), "Lower Fort Garry," "How to Write," "A Boy of the Great Northwest," "Dreams of Fort Garry" (an historical ballad of the Red River), "When Christmas Came" and numerous articles and poems.

He married Anna McNaught Johnston, Vancouver, on May 16, 1911, and had one son and one daughter.

Canadians Asked To Boost Imports Of British Products

LONDON (CP)—Food Minister Strachey, on behalf of the United Kingdom government, today appealed to Canadians to help "to match if you will—Britain's export drive to Canada with a parallel 'Canadian drive to import British products.'"

This, he said in addressing the Canadian Chamber of Commerce here, would be the best way for Canadians to help Britain pay for Canadian foodstuffs and put Anglo-Canadian economic relations back on a sound footing.

"If you will inform us of the buying programs of your great public authorities, of your major industries and the like, it will immensely help us to cater for your real needs," he said.

"And by doing so we shall surely be assisting you both to continue to sell your agricultural products and raw materials in the United Kingdom and to get the imports you need from a place in which you have no difficulty whatever in paying for them."

"Such an increase of direct bilateral trade between the United Kingdom and Canada can never be more than one factor in solving the Anglo-Canadian economic problem, but it is an indispensable factor. For the rest we must, in the short run, frankly patch up perhaps by temporary expedients the gap which otherwise threatens to open between our two economies."

"The purchase by Canada of a 'sharply-increased flow' of British exports is 'indispensable to the continued sale of your wheat, bacon, eggs and cheese in this market,' Strachey added.

Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, said he looked to "substantial progress during 1948" in expansion of British exports to Canada, "an indispensable element in meeting the gap in Anglo-Canadian payments."

Canadians, Aussies To Send Messages Far South, Far North

OTTAWA (CP)—Servicemen of two Dominions will broadcast messages to each other this month telling how it feels to be stationed in the vicinity of opposite poles.

The Royal Canadian Signals detachment at station CHAK, Akavik, N.W.T., will send a greeting to a Royal Australian Naval Expedition in the Antarctic, while the Australians will send a message telling Canadians how cold it is south of the Arctic Circle.

The Canadian 15-minute message will be picked up by the CBC at Edmonton and relayed to Sackville, N.B., to be transmitted on the short-wave station to the Australian expedition at Heard Island in the Antarctic.

In reply, the Australians will send a message in Morse code to the radio Australia station at Melbourne, which will rebroadcast it in voice over its North American service of the day.

The two groups, working as they are in the extreme cold and trying conditions of polar regions, have much in common. In fact, the Australians are trying out clothing tested by the Canadian army in the Arctic last year.

Station CHAK is Canada's most northerly broadcast station and is operated by military personnel on the same voluntary service lines as the army's broadcasting station CFWH in Whitehorse, Y.T. The transmitter was built in December, 1946, using the parts of a dismantled "ham" radio set, by Sgt. Maj. E. A. MacLeod, formerly of Vancouver, and other military personnel of the Northwest Territories and Yukon radio system stationed at Akavik.

Man Will Live Longer If Wife Recognizes Heart Disease

The man in the blue serge suit was putting a little as he reached his seat on the early morning commuters' train. "Pretty fair sprint for a man of 51. Haven't missed the 9:05 once this month," he told his companion. "I'm in great shape. The old heart hasn't bothered me for 10 years."

Seconds later as he commenced unfolding his paper a look of pained surprise contorted his face. "Touch of indigestion," he gasped. They were his last words. He slumped forward in his seat—dead.

"Sudden death from heart attack," read his obituary. The same paper recorded the quiet death during sleep of an eminent scientist, the three-hour fatal illness of a new ambassador on the eve of his departure abroad and the death of a traveling salesman who fell from a 10th-story hotel window after lunging toward it gasping for air.

Heart disease kills three times oftener than cancer, six times oftener than accidents and over 10 times oftener than tuberculosis. One out of every three deaths in the nation is caused by diseases of the heart or blood vessels. But this rate is not inevitable—it could be lowered. And women, according to the nation's heart specialists, can take the first and most necessary step.

Heart disease, like cancer, kills because it is not caught in time. And one Baltimore specialist says, "Many, many lives could be saved if every American woman would learn the symptoms of heart disease and have every member of her family see the family doctor immediately when one or another of these simple easy-to-recognize symptoms appears."

Why women? Well, men don't like to admit weakness—even to themselves. As a Chicago physician reports it: "Too many men put off an examination. Negligence and fear are the real reasons we have so many heart fatalities." A woman's insistence after the warning signals appear could well save her husband's life.

All specialists agree on the warning signals to watch for—three major and four minor signals which every American woman should know about.

These symptoms are clearly given in the article entitled, "Guard Your Husband's Heart," in the January edition of Woman's Home Companion, now on sale at magazine dealers. Woman's Home Companion is distributed from Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C. ***

Disillusioned Spaniards Caught Trying To Get Out Of Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic dispatches reaching Washington today say two Argentine diplomats attempted unsuccessfully to smuggle two Spaniards out of Russia recently in trunks as personal airplane luggage.

A Russian airman discovered the attempt when one Spaniard almost suffocated in his trunk and tried to get out.

The incident is reported not only in Moscow dispatches to the State Department. It was related in a Paris Spanish-language broadcast heard and officially reported in the United States.

The American information is that the two Spaniards—both men—were loyalists in the Spanish civil war and went to Russia after their side had lost. They became disillusioned and wanted to get out of Russia. But they were confronted with the difficulty that the Russian government requires foreigners to obtain special permits to leave the country. The smuggling attempt followed. The Paris version says one Spaniard was a café singer, but does not identify the other.

In the State Department's information, the two Argentine diplomats were not identified by name. The report is that one trunk was put aboard an airplane which took off carrying also one of the Argentine diplomats. After the plane was in the air the Spaniard began to suffocate and started banging on the side of the trunk. This drew the attention of a Russian crewman, who discovered the plot.

The plane's crew report to the airport brought an investigation of the luggage of the other Argentine diplomat, still there. The second carefully packed Spaniard was then discovered.

Petrillo Acquitted Of Law Violation

CHICAGO (AP)—James C. Petrillo today was acquitted on a charge of violating the Lea Act which Congress passed to curb his broad union powers.

Federal Judge Walter J. Labuy, in his written opinion of eight pages, said: "There is no evidence whatever in the record to show that the defendant had knowledge of or was informed of the lack of need of additional employees prior to the trial of this case."

The government alleged in its criminal case that Petrillo, head of the American Federation of Musicians (A.F.M.), had violated the law by calling a strike to coerce station WAAF, Chicago, to hire extra help.

5 Die, 43 Hurt In Train Crash At Wykes, Que.

PARENT, Que. (CP)—Five persons were killed, three seriously injured and 40 reported slightly hurt today when passenger train No. 21 plowed into the rear end of train No. 11 on the transcontinental line of the Canadian National Railways.

All the killed, including a baggage man named Vaillancourt, were on No. 11, into which the Quebec-Noranda train crashed.

The accident occurred at Wykes, a small northwestern Quebec station a few miles east of here. Trains with doctors and nurses were sent from Parent and Fitzpatrick, another divisional point.

Another special was sent to carry the injured to La Tuque, nearest hospital point.

The accident occurred at 8:05 a.m. E.S.T. Neither train was running on schedule. No. 21 was due at Parent at 7:55 a.m. and No. 11 at 6:20 a.m.

The three seriously hurt also were on No. 11, bound for Coharabe, Ont. Ten were reported slightly injured on the same train and 30 also slightly hurt on No. 21, which was made up of 10 coaches. No. 11 carried 11 coaches.

The crash occurred in 35-below zero weather, and uninjured passengers clambered over smashed coaches and debris in the bitter cold to aid the others.

Report Arabs Set Feb. 15 As D-Day Against Zionism

JERUSALEM (AP)—Arabs attacked four Jewish settlements in the area between Jerusalem and Hebron today, Jewish sources reported, and tension mounted with reports from Syria that Middle East Arabs have set Feb. 15 as D-day for military sweep against Zionism.

Snipers' guns barked constantly in Jerusalem and in the area of All-Jewish Tel Aviv and All-Arab Jaffa. Jaffa is thronged with Syrians, Iraqi and Trans-Jordanians awaiting orders to move against Tel Aviv.

Unofficial but reliable sources said three columns of Arabs attacked Ain Tsurin, near Hebron, with grenades and automatic weapons. Jewish reports said the Arabs also attacked the neighboring collective villages of Chikh Revadim, Massoth, Izhak and Kfar Etzion. They said the first band of attackers comprised 15 men, the second, about 30. A third band struck from the direction of Jerusalem.

On the Bethlehem-Hebron road an automobile of the Iraqi consulate was attacked and the driver and the driver's wife were reported injured. The consul himself was not in the car.

'OPEN CITY'

A high government authority said the Palestine government has asked Christian, Moslem and Jewish religious communities to declare Jerusalem's old city area an "open city," and that negotiations were "nearing a successful conclusion." Hagana, the Jewish militia, pasted up leaflets in Jerusalem Arab quarters warning that if the Arabs did not lift their siege of 1,500 Jews within the ancient walled city, "we will be forced to defend ourselves by imposing an equal siege on some of your people outside the old city so your people can taste misery."

Uproar In French Assembly As Reds Boycott All Posts

PARIS (AP)—The whole law-making power of the National Assembly—scene of shouts, songs and fist fights in a stormy re-organizing meeting—was endangered today by a Communist boycott of Assembly offices.

The Assembly, more powerful of France's two legislative houses, convened again today in an effort to settle a dispute between Communists and their foes over division of its offices. Non-Communists have asked the Republic's Socialist President, Vincent Auriol, to help.

The dispute, in Tuesday's re-organization session, centered around the Assembly's first vice-presidency. The first vice-president would become Assembly president in event of incapacity of President Edouard Herriot, Radical Socialist. Herriot, re-elected Tuesday, is 76 and ailing.

In caucus, parliamentary leaders of non-Communist parties agreed to give the first vice-presidency to Socialist Max Lejeune and to demote Communist leader Jacques Duclos, last year's first vice-president, to third vice-president. Duclos, walking out, said that if he could not have the higher office, his party would take no Assembly offices.

OUTLOOK UNCERTAIN

Parliamentarians said they doubted if the Assembly would have the right to function in event the Communists stuck by this refusal. The constitution says parties must hold Assembly posts in proportion to their strength. The Communists, though without a majority, are the Assembly's strongest party. The 1946 election gave them and their affiliates 182 of the 618 seats.

In the Assembly, hot debate followed the caucus. Communist Marcel Cachin, 76, temporary presiding officer by reason of being the oldest deputy, broke this off by adjourning the session suddenly. Deputies began fighting in the aisles. The second oldest deputy, 77-year-old Rightist Maurice Viollette, tried to reach the chairman's platform, apparently seeking to reopen the meeting, but Communists stopped him.

Probe Report 15 Killed In Wreck

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian National Railways officials today were checking an unconfirmed report that 15 persons were killed in the rear-end collision involving two trains on the C.N.R. transcontinental line in northwestern Quebec.

The report filtered into Montreal from the north country. C.N.R. officials said the last word they had was that five were killed, as originally reported from Parent, a divisional point five miles west of the wreck.

Vancouver Fogbound

VANCOUVER (CP)—For the second successive day, fog blanketed Vancouver today, disrupting land, sea and air transportation. Traffic accidents sent at least seven persons to hospitals, the most seriously injured being James Middleton, a streetcar conductor, who was crushed between two trucks as he stepped from his car.

Refused Posts Back

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four policemen demoted in the police department shake-up a year ago, have been refused reinstatement by Chief W. Mulligan to their former rank. The four officers, now probably will carry their case to the police commission.

Royal Commission Advised On Problems Of Illegitimacy

EDMONTON (CP)—Illegitimate children kept by their mothers should be told of their status as soon as they can understand, Dr. Charlotte Whitton, social welfare expert, said Tuesday.

Testifying before the Royal Commission appointed by the Alberta government to investigate the provincial welfare set-up, Dr. Whitton said wisdom and understanding dictate that such children so learn their status to prevent a sudden unkind revelation.

Dr. Whitton conducted a survey on Alberta child welfare for the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, the subsequent report being partially responsible for the commission investigation.

Good case workers also advise couples to tell adopted children of their status, she said, but no pressure is brought on parents to do so.

Government counsel S. Bruce Smith referred to opinions of welfare workers that many cases turned out satisfactory, where men were willing to marry women who brought illegitimate children into the union.

Dr. Whitton agreed with this. "It's one of those things which continually renews a spinster's confidence in men."

Asked if she believed wardships (permission to keep foster children) were canceled in the province without authority of order-in-council, she asserted attempts had been made during the survey to reconcile the total wardships announced canceled by the welfare department and total authorizations from the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council.

60-Day Reprieve

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Jake Bird, convicted slayer scheduled to be hanged early Friday, was granted a 60-day stay of execution by Governor Wallgren today—60 days "should be sufficient time to clear up any confessions Bird has made," the Governor said. Bird has told authorities he committed or can "clear up" 44 slayings.

Somerset Maugham, famous novelist, became a physician at his family's insistence, but never practised.

Hundreds Homeless As Swollen British Rivers Overflow

LONDON (Reuter)—Scores of persons were homeless and hundreds marooned in upstairs rooms today in Britain's flood zones after overnight rain had swollen overflowing rivers.

More than a dozen rivers have burst their banks and others are threatening homes and property in an area stretching from southwest England to Yorkshire, 250 miles to the northeast.

The Severn, largest of England's rivers after the Thames, rose two inches an hour during the night, and heights up to 18 feet above normal summer level were reported from various places.

STORM OVER CHANNEL

PARIS (Reuter)—Rough weather continued over the English Channel today as word was received of damage caused to fishing craft at Channel ports in Tuesday's gale.

The fishing boat Heron was wrecked outside Dunkerque Harbor, but no lives were lost.

Near the coast at Ostend the sloop Forban, biggest in the Dunkerque fishing fleet, was driven by heavy seas into collision with the ship La Madonne. The Forban foundered, but the members of her crew were rescued by La Madonne.

Conviction Quashed After 5 Months Served

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Court of Appeal today quashed the conviction of Joseph Edward McMahon, sentenced to one year imprisonment by Judge T. M. Mulligan at Port Arthur on a charge of stealing a truck. The man already has served five months of his sentence.

Defence counsel told the court that subsequent to the conviction, Winnipeg police had made investigations which showed the conviction was unjustified. Crown counsel said he was satisfied the verdict should be quashed.

President Warns 'Wave Of Inflation' May Bring Slump

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman declared today that prosperity in the United States is riding a "wave of inflation" toward the peril of a "serious" business slump.

Linking his second annual economic report to a renewed plea for legislative power to cope with soaring prices, he told Congress:

"The American people are keenly aware that inflation is the dominant problem in our affairs."

Mr. Truman used urgent words in demanding once again the full 10-point anti-inflation plan which the Republican-dominated Congress refused him during November's special session. He asserted that stand-by price, wage and rationing authority are "needed, needed badly, and needed promptly."

In addition to congressional action, the President called upon business to cut prices wherever possible, "foregoing a quick and dangerous excess profit in favor of long-run stability."

He urged labor to be "moderate" in its third-round wage demands.

Nor did he yield any ground on taxes.

He insisted that the $7,500,000,000 treasury surplus now in sight for next June 30 be used to lower the national debt, not cut tax rates as the Republicans are determined to do. He repeated his proposal for a $40-a-person "cost-of-living" income tax cut to be made up by higher taxes on corporations.

Pocket Submarine Ready For Tests

This new Italian submarine, invented by Pietro Vassena (right), will be tested in Lake Garda, in Italy, in the near future. The inventor claims his craft can go down 1,000 metres below the surface. That is approximately 3,280 feet. Operations of the tiny submarine are controlled by radio.

AN OLD REFRAIN

COALITION LIBERALS IN THE PROVINCIAL ridings of Saanich and Cariboo will read with interest the remarks that fell from the lips of Mr. Colin Cameron, former C.C.F. member of the Legislature for Comox and now aspirant to the seat recently left vacant by the elevation of Hon. Norman Whittaker to the Supreme Court bench, in an address at the Tolmie C.C.F. Hall last night. Among other things, the representative of the Socialist opposition for the important Vancouver Island constituency told his audience that the Coalition took over at a "fortunate time, with no unemployment or financial worries and fewer social worries" and has done little.

What is worrying Mr. Cameron, of course, is that the postwar "blue ruin" which he and his fellow C.C.F. members of the local House were predicting with monotonous regularity between 1941 and 1945 has not yet appeared on the economic horizon. Well do we recall, incidentally, how Messrs. McNeill, Lefaux, Cameron, and Mesdames Steeves, MacInnis and Jamieson pointed their fingers of scorn at the government benches because the Coalition ministry "had done nothing" to anticipate or prevent the calamity envisioned by the members sitting on the left of Mr. Speaker. Several months after the war, however, the Socialists toured the province and displayed the moth-eaten wares which they had spread out on their desks in the Legislature. And what happened? All six of Mr. Winch's lieutenants to whom we have referred were rejected by the electors in their respective ridings. Mr. Cameron surely will not have the audacity, as he seeks a way back to the scene of his lugubrious prognostications, to insult the intelligence of the well-informed and progressive citizens of Saanich by telling them they made a mistake when they endorsed Mr. Whittaker by a handsome plurality over his three opponents on that politically-bright October day in 1945. Yet the C.C.F. aspirant is still playing the same old record. Either he should get a new needle or change the disc.

While on the subject of Mr. Cameron's remarks, moreover, it is fitting to extend our congratulations to Mr. Arthur R. J. Ash, the Coalition Liberal who will carry the Johnson-Anscomb administration's colors at the by-election next month. He is well and favorably known throughout the community, understands its conditions, appreciates its desires, and can be depended upon to reflect faithfully the views of his constituents in the Legislature. The "invasion" of this riding by the former member for Comox is cause for neither criticism nor alarm.

Our good friends in the adjoining district, however, will be able to tell Mr. Cameron that all the dire consequences he predicted as a result of the Coalition system of government have failed to materialize; instead of economic confusion, on which his party depended for success at the polls, British Columbia has enjoyed, and continues to enjoy, the best administration it has ever had.

THEY ARE NEEDED

BRITISH COLUMBIA COMMUNITIES whose residents have been looking high and low for carpenters and laborers may cast envious eyes at the City of Port Alberni, where steps reportedly are being taken to advertise the fact that there are too many carpenters and joiners there already and that prospective temporary newcomers are warned to stay away. The Victoria area itself has a small surplus of carpenters at the moment, due to seasonal lag in the building industry, but the up-island centre has 50 such tradesmen unemployed. The Carpenters' and Joiners' Union of Port Alberni believes the situation is the result of "boom-town publicity" which has attracted a large influx of workers to the busy canal area. Whatever the reason, the vast building needs of this province will not likely permit a prolongation of unemployment among this class of worker. Their holiday should be a brief one.

EIRE'S POLITICAL PROBLEM

NEXT MONTH, IN THAT PART OF THE British Isles which is now known the world over as Eire, the electors will go to the polls to decide whether or not the government over which Mr. de Valera presides should be given another term of office. It is true that the life of the present Dail Eireann, or Parliament, at Dublin does not expire until next year. But the Prime Minister evidently feels that the two defeats his administration sustained at by-elections in the latter part of October warrant his appeal to the people for new instructions.

It should be observed that the voting strength in the lower chamber is now divided as follows: Fianna Fail, or Government Party, 74; Fine Gael, or United Ireland Party, 30; Farmer, 12; Labor, eight; Independent, eight; National Labor, four; the Clann Na Poblachta Party, or Left Republicans, two—out of a total of 138. And it should also be noted that Mr. de Valera announced a month or so ago that if the Irish Republican Army under its new title of Clann Na Poblachta defeated his own nominees in the by-elections he would "go to the country." His subsequent announcement confirmed his decision. How much strength the old I.R.A. following will be able to command in a general appeal is largely problematical. While the Prime Minister was adamant in his neutral stand during the war years—a state of neutrality to which Eire appears to have conformed rigidly despite the handicaps it imposed on the Allies—it is obvious that in recent months Dublin's relations with Westminster have reflected a spirit of economic harmony with mutual advantage. Trade between the two countries has grown considerably, as it was bound to do, since each produces what the other requires.

What may be worrying Mr. de Valera more than ever before, however, is that, despite his ancient grudge against Britain and his continued implacable demand for political unity between Ulster and Eire, large numbers of his compatriots still are leaving his own part of Erin's Isle for Britain and elsewhere in search of a livelihood. And, if any evidence of this fact were required, it may be found in the vital statistics. These show that the population of Eire at the beginning of 1948 is between 20,000 and 23,000 less than it was in 1926. This condition alone would seem to furnish its own commentary—if not to suggest to the "Republican" Prime Minister the desirability that he re-assess the value and potentialities of closer association with the United Kingdom in conjunction with those dictated by the political philosophy to which he still apparently tenaciously clings.

SUPERFICIAL

IN AN ADDRESS HERE LAST NIGHT Mr. Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. member of the House of Commons for Vancouver East, is reported to have told his hearers that "the Dominion government has taken money out of the pockets of the people of Canada" and that "the dollar that is returned to you will buy about half what it would when it was saved by compulsory savings deductions." Superficially that sounds like an indictment of the administration and an implication that Canadians have been robbed.

We will be pardoned, however, if we ask how taxes can be collected without taking money from the pockets of the people, and how any government adhering to the democratic system can run a nation's business without taxation. On the point of the reduced purchasing power of the dollar, the value of all savings are lowered when living costs rise. But to what point would they have soared had not compulsory savings drained off some of the excess purchasing power of the later war years when everyone had money in his pocket and commodities were scarce? The efficacy of compulsory savings in checking the upward spiral on a seller's market needs no elaboration. It might also be pointed out that the Nazis were sowing mines in eastern Canadian waters when the deductions were introduced. Had the government demanded the people's money without any plan for return, would the citizens have been justified in opposing collections for the prosecution of the fight against the enemy? Mr. MacInnis appears to have presented a flashy picture for propaganda purposes. It does not stand up under analysis.

BEST DRESSED

CANADIAN FASHION CIRCLES, particularly those in the west, have been thrown into a bit of a dither by the selection of the 10 best-dressed women in the Dominion. The choices were made by the women's editors of the "daily papers"—and all 10 went to easterners. That is the point which has roused the western experts. They claim that the ranking of a complete slate of eastern fashion plates at the top of the list was due, not to lack of feminine elegance west of the Great Lakes, but to the fact that there are more women's editors in the east, and hence more Ontario and Quebec-conscious voters. We feel it unwise to become partisan in a controversy with such latent possibilities of fury and violence, beyond saying that it would seem more logical to vote for a woman whose taste in style could be seen at first hand from time to time, rather than for one who, being on the other side of the continent, could be known only by reputation and photographic reproduction.

The contention of the western editors is that, while eastern women may be earlier by some months in adopting new styles, they have nothing over their western counterparts when it comes to wearing the creations of fashion. The free-swinging limbs of the western girls, the youthful, open-air spirit of the Pacific Coast, the casual customs of the foothills country, the wide freedom of the prairies—these, say their advocates, contribute an atmosphere to western dress which is not found in the more urban, sophisticated apparel of the eastern provinces. No decision will be rendered in these columns. It is more than likely that no final decision will ever be rendered. As long as women are women and clothes are clothes the argument will be an annual one, and the mere male does well to confine his verdicts to the privacy of unofficial judgments on the passing-street parade.

NOTES

Publishers long for stuff that is "pure entertainment," but alas! one reader's entertainment is another reader's tripe.

Marshall Plan Details

By PETER EDSON, from Washington

MARSHALL PLAN CRITICS harp loudly on the impossibility of trying to predict what American or European conditions will be four years ahead. The object is to limit the plan to a one-year tryout. Then if it doesn't work, kill it.

In this same connection, it is pointed out that the State Departments draft of legislation to carry out the Marshall Plan does not give the specific amounts earmarked for each country.

These details are coming. Volumes of them. Nearly a million figures will soon be dumped in the paunchy laps of the lawmakers. The foot-high stack of dull statistics will present mathematical justifications for every one of nearly 120,000 separate items.

MARSHALL PLANNERS in the executive end of the government have been accused of concealing these figures. But secrecy isn't the only reason. It took time to print the documents. It was desired to keep the initial discussion on general objectives—not details. It is desired to keep the program flexible, shifting where necessary.

When the details do come out, appropriations committees in Congress will probably try to trim every figure. And special interests will try to make substitutions. This was done when the stop-gap aid program was before the special session of Congress last month.

Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana scanned the list of supplies and noted no canned sweet potatoes were included. The reason was that 1,000 calories in canned sweet potatoes costs 14 cents delivered in France, while 1,000 calories of wheat cost 4 cents. It is obviously more to the taxpayers' interest to send wheat. But Louisiana grows lots of sweet potatoes and little wheat. So, the senator from Louisiana had to put on the act for the benefit of his constituents.

IT WILL BE EASY to sabotage the Marshall Plan by this kind of monkey business. European recovery can easily be killed by subjecting it to log-rolling tactics of high-tariff days. "You vote for my sweet potatoes and I'll vote for your raisins."

Without going into all this detail on every item, it is possible to understand how the Marshall Plan would work. Congress may change some provisions, but the draft for the "Economic Co-operation Act of 1948," as submitted by the President, sets forth three main objectives—increasing production; stabilizing financial conditions; and promoting international trade.

"Economic Co-operation Administration—E.C.A.—would be set up. It would be headed by a $20,000-a-year administrator, subject to control by the Secretary of State. There would be a $25,000-a-year special representative in Europe—an ambassador to sit as U.S. member on the Committee for Economic Co-operation.

Any country in Europe—including Iceland, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland—would be eligible to receive U.S. help. Sixteen nations are now included, but others might join later. The President may request U.N. organizations to co-operate.

Every country receiving help must sign a treaty with the U.S. and other co-operating countries, agreeing to work for recovery.

E.C.A. MAY PROVIDE technical or financial aid, buy, store, process, ship and sell supplies in any country to any country. Part of the aid may be furnished as non-repayable grants, part as loans. Grants must be approved by the National Advisory Council, made up of top cabinet officers. Loans will be handled by Export-Import Bank, subject to N.A.C. approval.

Private business would also be authorized to participate, and would be guaranteed against loss up to the amounts invested.

The amount of U.S. government aid would vary from $15.1 billion to $17.8 billion, depending on low or high prices. By law, the limit would be set at $17 billion from April 1, 1948, to June 30, 1952. The International Bank would be expected to furnish $4 billion more.

NATIONS RECEIVING U.S. aid would be expected to furnish strategic materials for stockpiling, at reasonable prices.

Any country receiving U.S. grants must agree to set aside, in a special fund of its own currency, amounts equal to the value of the aid furnished. This special fund must be used to further promote the purposes of the European aid program.

Opposition to the Marshall Plan in the United States comes principally from two sources—some of the Republicans in Congress, and some businessmen.

Republican opposition is a little difficult to figure. In final analysis, it seems to boil down to one thing. Spending money on the Marshall Plan may deprive the Republicans of the honor of cutting income tax rates. Oh yes, 1948 is an election year.

WHEN THE SHOWDOWN comes, therefore, many Washington observers believe that the fate of the Marshall Plan will be determined not on its merits but the amount that taxes can be cut over the President's veto, if necessary—and the budget total that will make the Republican record for economy look good. It's as simple as that.

Opposition of American businessmen, which naturally influences much congressional thinking, seems based on several conceptions, but they all add up to one thing. This is the fear that aid to Europe will hurt business in the U.S.

Takes A Lot Of Gas To Keep This Thing Going

Monarchy Fell With A Dull Thud

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THE fall of the Romanian "monarchy" caused only a small, dull thud. People may have wondered idly why Generalissimo Stalin let young Michael keep the title of king as long as he did. But it is evident that the Moscow-controlled regime in Bucharest now considers itself securely in the saddle. So Michael follows Peter, Semeon, Zog and Regent Horthy into the limbo reserved for the former monarchial heads of the Soviet satellites.

About the only other interesting thing about Michael's abdication is the added reminder of the low estate to which the job of being a king has fallen. Before World War I there were kings in Europe who possessed what approached absolute power over their subjects. Today more than half the kings are gone—some by war, some by election, most of them—strong-armed off the throne.

DIVINE RIGHT

Their removal, however, has not removed the ancient evils of monarchy that they symbolized.

Absolutism, once the "divine right of kings," remains. It is now the earthly, or perhaps devilish, right of dictators.

Meanwhile, through a long and rather curious political evolution, Europe's remaining monarchies have become the strongest citadels of real democracy there. Greece is a possible exception, but even so the trend seems to be toward more representative government. And however imperfect the present Greek government may be, it is certainly preferable to what the Communists promise that unhappy country. Even in Belgium, where the king's personal loyalty was questioned, the crown remains to attract and unite the people above the level of political differences.

Elsewhere, in England, Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands, the reigning monarchs played their wartime parts with admirable courage.

The history books may say that that fight was won. But absolute dictatorship and aggression remain today, almost as strong as in the days of Hitler and Mussolini. The empire of Soviet dictatorship stretches from the Pacific to the middle of Europe.

Dictators rule Spain, Portugal and several Latin American countries. Chiang Kai-shek has been called a "benevolent despot" whose dictatorship is necessary, but the fact remains that China's government is undemocratic.

BY REASON

So World War II may prove to be only a violent, terrible crisis in mankind's long struggle for liberty, self-government and individual dignity. Some battles in that struggle have been won by war and revolution; others have been won by reason. It is the world's first job, for a long time to come, to see that further battles are won by reason rather than by bloodshed.

There are examples from the past to lend the world courage for that job. And there is some comfort in the thought that, as the past's despotic kings have departed, so the present's despotic dictators may one day travel the same road.

'Yet The Spirit Of Liberalism Is Stronger'

By CASSANDRA, in the Daily Mirror, London

ON a Thursday in December, the cash register at the Treasury (have they got such a thing, or do they keep the national swag stuffed in an old mattress under the Chancellor's bed?) jingled twice. And the country was richer by £300—the forfeited deposits of the two Liberal candidates at the East Edinburgh and Howdenshire by-elections.

This is the fourth time since July, 1945, that the Liberals have been fined (for it almost amounts to that) for worrying the electorate with their apparently inconsequential views. On the battlefield of the General Election itself, 64 of their candidates got their ears bitten for £9,600 in lost deposits for interfering in the private rough-house between Messrs. Churchill and Attlee and their respective strong-arm squads.

Yet I believe that the spirit of Liberalism is stronger now than it has been for many years. Tories are growing weary of their bankruptcy of policy, and are tiring of waiting for Mr. Churchill to produce something more substantial than spurious and catchpenny cries like "Set the People Free." They are beginning to look around them.

Socialists are becoming restive under the burden of imposed rancour which they are supposed to feel towards about half the population; and are bored with the snot-pudding outlook of Trade Union bosses. There is a restive tendency among the Left to raise the furtive periscope of political reconnaissance.

They hear him greeted with cries of "Traitor!" and they watch the unperturbed and unconvincing contortions of this bloodless veteran of politics who knows so many of the answers but has contrived to generate even less sympathy than is the meagre lot of most lawyer-politicians.

They hear the leader of the Liberal Party, Clement Davies, denouncing Socialism with a vehemence that destroys what slender bridges remained between the Left and the Centre.

And they watch with wonderment the curious performance of T. L. Horabin crossing over to the Labor ranks at Westminster and then refusing to resign at the direct request of the Liberals who sent him there.

Before the last General Election there were 18 Liberals.

Immediately after it, when the avalanche had roared by, 12 only remained to wipe the snow out of their eyes.

Today there are nine. At this steady rate of decline they will be wiped out when Mr. Attlee goes to the country again in 1950.

Thus the whole of the growing strength of moderate radical opinion in this country must rely for its political representation on a handful of people who don't even add up to a full-sized cricket team, and who haven't finally made up their minds whom they are playing against—let alone among them is best qualified to bat or open the bowling.

John Bright lies a-shuddering in his grave.

Why not?

A Quebec dairy official is quoted as stating that if margarine were sold in Canada the average consumer's butter bill would drop $20 a year, "at the expense of the national dairy industry." According to that line of deep thought, then, the thing to do is keep margarine out and let the national dairy industry continue to grab the $20 at the expense of the average consumer! The guy's used to it, and has no friends anyway.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press News Analyst

INDIA IS WITNESSING the beginning of an amazing spiritual drama and one which may have far-reaching effects, for Mohandas Gandhi has begun another of his fasts, perhaps unto death, in an effort to bring peace to the vast Indian peninsula which is dangerously near war because of the bitter differences between the new dominions of India (largely Hindu) and Pakistan (largely Moslem).

To the western world such tactics seem strange and perhaps futile. But "east is east and west is west" and the action of the aged and frail little man already has shocked and sobered millions of his countrymen who revere and even worship him as a holy man. We see striking proof of this in the fact that trading was suspended in the markets of the great cities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras as he proclaimed the beginning of his fast with the declaration:

"You must prefer Gandhi or lawlessness; you can't have both."

SAINTLY MAN

It would take a saintly man indeed to shock Wall Street or "The City" of London into closing down. In India, however, Gandhi has greater influence than any other individual, and that influence isn't restricted to his own people—the Hindus. Just before he began his fast he received delegations of Hindus, Sikhs and Moslems, who begged him to give the people another 15 days to restore peace before he refrained from food, but he shook his head and said that life had no value or attraction without peace and love.

Now what is this threat which Gandhi is risking his life to remove? It's a complicated situation but in its essence it springs from the religious conflicts which have plagued India through the centuries. The two new dominions are built on politico-religious-racial differences, and these now are being aggravated by new difficulties which have grown out of the carving up of the sub-continent into two independent countries.

One bone of contention is the fight over the very rich state of Kashmir, whose population is largely Moslem but whose Hindu maharajah has tried to join his state to the Hindu dominion of India. Moslem tribesmen from Pakistan territory have invaded Kashmir and there has been savage fighting between Moslem and Hindu forces.

Then, too, the dominion of India is much the larger and richer, having most of the big industries and resources. Naturally Pakistan, which lacks many essentials, is finding tough going. All this adds fuel to the flames of passion.

Many observers believe there is only one logical solution. That is the formation of a federal government (such as Britain tried to achieve) which would link the dominions economically but would leave each a great degree of sovereignty.

Classrooms Afloat

Norway Digest

UTILIZATION of off- hours aboard Norwegian merchantmen has been the subject of a recent series of experiments. Since last spring, the crews of five tankers of the Leif Hoegh Line have each included a university graduate who has gone to sea with a purpose. These young men are conducting an experiment in education which is already showing unusual results. They represent the interesting combination of seaman and teacher—regular sea-going school-masters. Aboard the Leif Hoegh tanker Pan Europe, for example, one of the students who has signed aboard as an "able-bodied seaman" is instructing 35 members of the crew in English and Spanish during off-hours. There was a time, noted the captain of the Pan Europe, when the officers instructed the seamen but time changes things.

Fredrik Haslund of the Norwegian Government's Merchant Marine Welfare Office has indicated that success of the tanker experiments will lead to a broad expansion of the off-time study plan. Tankers were chosen for the first try because their voyages are long, and quick loading gives them little time in port. Each crew, isolated as it is for long periods, represents a little society unto itself, socially, politically, and intellectually. The general instruction program must therefore be fitted to each individual crew. For language instruction, the crew is broken up into small groups on the basis of previous knowledge and the audio-visual system is generally used.

Only Ability To Pay Should Determine Pensions, Says Winch

E. E. Winch, C.C.F. member of the provincial Legislature for Burnaby, said here Tuesday night that Canada's ability to pay should be the only barometer in setting pensions for senior citizens.

Addressing the Old-Age Pension
Campaign Council at Prince Robert House he criticized the use of the term old-age pensioner and suggested that Canada's ability to produce during the war had clearly indicated the nation's ability to pay pensions to the aged of more than $50 per month. In the opinion of the 68-year-old legislator pensions should be on a par with salaries of members of Parliament and of the legislatures.

Victoria, Mr. Winch said, had 1,500 pensioners, only one-third of whom owned their own homes, the remainder living with relatives. The problem of providing for the aged, he suggested, was not that of municipal or provincial governments but of every citizen.

He outlined projects of Danish groups in Burnaby which, he said, were providing good accommodation for aged persons of Danish ancestry; of Swedish people who were establishing a home for their aged in North Vancouver, and of Jewish groups who were negotiating for a hospital in Vancouver. He questioned if similar steps were being taken in Victoria.

Mr. Winch charged that 1,200 senile persons had been sent to the provincial mental home at Essondale during the past 10 years although that institution was already 70 per cent overcrowded, and said a separate institution should be maintained for care of these senile persons and countless others living in homes.

Providing senior citizenship with food and shelter was not enough, the speaker said, claiming that many of the older citizens could still make substantial contributions to the province provided they were given the opportunity.

"No individual can divorce himself or herself from society as a whole, no more than a nation can," he said. "Individual responsibilities and the willingness of every person in every country to assume their responsibilities to society as a whole is the ultimate answer."

Mayor Again Asks Government Control Of Prices, Wages

Action by the Dominion government to put an end to what he termed "the spiral of prices and labor costs," was again called for by Mayor Percy George when he addressed Tuesday's meeting of the Victoria
Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel.

Because of the present, unsettled, economic conditions the 1948 City Council finds it is unable to project itself into the near future to determine what budget will be required to carry out its administrative duties, the mayor said. Furthermore, the speaker continued, the issues facing this year's council present themselves as major expenditures.

Issues to be dealt with include: Formation of a Greater Victoria water board, possible introduction of a sales or business tax, settlement of hospitalization costs, completion of the Memorial Arena, building of a new City Hall, addition to the police station, rebuilding of Point Ellice bridge and continuation of negotiation on amalgamation.

Treacherous Icy Roads Cause Of Many Accidents

The coming of the colder weather is resulting in slippery road surfaces through snow and frost and motorists are urged to drive carefully under such treacherous conditions.

There have been a number of accidents due to the slippery surfaces in the lower island area, especially at night.

So far there have been no serious injuries to persons, but police point out that a taxi on the part of drivers under such dangerous circumstances could well result in deaths and grievous injuries to humans.

Sgt. Eric Elwell of the Saanich Police reported one accident caused by icy roads in that municipality last night. He said Mrs. E. McAulay, Brentwood Auto Court, sustained cuts and bruises when the car she was riding in with her husband, overturned on Martindale Hill, East Saanich Road. The car had just started down the hill in an easterly direction when the accident occurred, Sgt. Elwell said.

By the time your baby is four months old, a play pen is practically a "must" piece of equipment. So if you can't afford to buy one, get hubby to build one — preferably one with a raised floor that keeps baby above floor drafts indoors and cold ground outdoors. A play pen will look after baby for hours at a time while you do your work... and it will also enable baby to develop his muscles as he likes and in his own good time. Before putting baby and his toys in the play pen, place a thick pad on the floor, and over it a rubber sheet and then an ordinary sheet. Don't encourage him to do exercises. It's best to let him handle the sitting up and pulling up business in his own way.

At about the time your baby is ready for a play pen, he's probably also ready for solid foods. Here, you'll find the 22 varieties of Heinz Baby Foods are a real Mother's Aid Society in themselves. Carefully selected from the choicest, foods... cooked to retain minerals and vitamins in high degree... and strained to a smooth, even texture... Heinz Baby Foods are easy to swallow, easy to digest. And when your doctor suggests coarser-textured food for baby, the 12 varieties of Heinz Junior Foods are available to assure continued wholesome nourishment and tempting flavour for baby's menu.

Confer On Transit Brief For Province

Representatives of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt will be asked to confer with the Victoria transportation committee within the next days to discuss the contents of the brief to be presented to the provincial government, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the committee, said following a meeting Tuesday.

The brief will ask that the municipalities be given the power to set up an intermunicipal board to act as a liaison body between the transportation companies and the municipalities in transit matters.

At the inaugural meeting of the committee its functions and plans for the year were also discussed, Ald. Diggon said. The committee will meet with the public works committee to discuss road conditions and other questions on which their functions may overlap.

Presenting The O.B.A.
For the first time in Victoria

IT'S THE OPEN BUDGET ACCOUNT—it's very name explains it. It offers the convenience of a charge account in that you may add your purchases at any time without signing a new agreement on each occasion... but it is like a regular budget or installment account in that you pay a fixed amount each month. The convenience of it lies in the fact that you may charge day by day anything you may desire up to the pre-arranged ceiling. There is no need to pay in full each month or make numerous deposits or refer constantly to the office.
A PAYMENT OF $5.00 MONTHLY PERMITS PURCHASES UP TO $50.00. $10.00 ALLOWS $100.00, AND SO ON AS LONG AS THE TOTAL ON YOUR ACCOUNT DOES NOT EXCEED THE CEILING AMOUNT ARRANGED.

(CHARGE ACCOUNT)
The "C.A." A charge account at a good store is an indication of good standing and business-like planning. You may purchase up to any amount that you can conveniently pay for by the 10th of the following month, receiving a statement of the amount owing at the beginning of each month. No down payments are required of a "CA" customer.

(BUDGET PLAN)
The "B.P." This, too, is explained by its name. The plan is more convenient for larger purchases and separate contract is arranged for each purchase. A reasonable down payment is required and installments may be arranged up to 18 months on furniture and appliances. Shorter terms on cut goods. Carrying charges are the lowest obtainable.

Labor Laws Discussed At Women's Club

A. M. Whisker, executive administrative officer of the Department of Labor, spoke briefly to members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular meeting Monday evening in the club rooms.

Briefly outlining those provincial laws of particular interest to women, Mr. Whisker described the functions of the Factories Act, Annual Holidays Act, Male and Female Minimum Wage Act, Hours of Work Act and the Employment of Children Act.

The talk was in the nature of a preliminary to the meeting of the club when a full forum discussion will be held on the various phases of these acts.

Miss Mabel Cameron is convener of arrangements.

President of the club, Miss Minnie Beveridge, presided at Monday's meeting and Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps thanked the speaker at close of his remarks.

It was announced that the next gathering, on Jan. 26, would be a supper meeting commencing at 6 o'clock, followed by the forum. The club is sponsoring an evening of the Victoria Little Theatre production, "Outward Bound," on Jan. 31.

Two new members were voted into the club, Mrs. M. V. MacLean and Mrs. W. Stevenson.

Ladies' Auxiliary, Lion's Club Hold Installation Banquet

Lions Club president Jim Roberts congratulates Mrs. Wilson McDuffee, who had just been installed as president of the Ladies' Auxiliary for the coming year. Mrs. Bert Young, immediate past president, is an interested spectator.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Victoria Lions' Club set a frolicsome mood when they entertained Lion Club members and guests at their installation banquet, Tuesday evening in the Mirror Room at Melody Lane. Gay, colorful evening gowns and dinner frocks were worn by the ladies, who, with their partners, danced to the strains of Charlie Hunt's orchestra, following dinner.

With Lion Club president, Jim Roberts, in the chair, George Thackray, added to the merriment, in his role as tall-talker. Those guilty of ridiculous and humorous "crimes," included Mayor Percy E. George, who, with Mrs. George, was among the special guests. Mayor George was fined "one dime on general principles." Total proceeds from the amusing fines were voted to the ladies' auxiliary.

Mrs. Wilson McDuffee, wearing a dinner gown of old rose, with corsage bouquet of white carnations, was announced as president by Mr. Roberts, who, on behalf of Lion Club members, expressed best wishes for the auxiliary's continued success.

Mrs. Bert Young, in a gold sequin-trimmed gown of olive green, with corsage bouquet of pink carnations, was commended by the Lion's Club president, for her service during the past two years as president, and was named immediate past president. Mrs. Clare Yarwood was installed as vice-president.

Secretary, Mrs. Jim Roberts, and Mrs. Len Keyworth, treasurer, were installed by Clarence Johns. Mrs. Edward Estlin and Mrs. Ken Simpson were announced directors for two years, and Mrs. Leo Evenden and Mrs. Ernie Emery, one-year directors, by Leo Evenden.

On behalf of the administrators of Greater Victoria, Mayor George praised the 40 members of the auxiliary for their charitable and social work since their organization five years ago. Members also received congratulations from Sqdn. Ldr. J. Good.

Toast to the auxiliary was proposed by Jack Kendrick, and was responded to by Mrs. William Trenholme.

Greenery decorated the tables, which were lighted by green candles. A large bowl of pink carnations, white chrysanthemums and iris, flanked by silver candelabra holding lighted green candles, centred the main table.

Mrs. Charles Savage conveyed the annual event which was attended by 100 persons. Assisting were Mrs. Leo Evenden and Mrs. Bill Spouse. Walter Roth presided at the piano during a community sing.

Shoelaces which have lost their tips can be stiffened up for their slide through shoe eyes by twisting the ends and dipping in clear nail polish. Cords or heavy threads given the same treatment simplify stringing beads.

Group Will Fight Racial Discrimination

LONDON (Reuter)—Proposals made at a conference here by Hilda Simms, United States negro actress appearing in London in the play "Anna Lucasta," have led to formation of a committee for the abolition of color discrimination in Great Britain.

"We have a great deal of this vicious racial discrimination in America and the four freedoms are being shattered," Miss Simms told conference representatives from cultural, political, sporting and other organizations.

"A committee to wipe out this dreadful scourge should be formed at once."

The newly formed committee will attempt to alter known racial discrimination practiced in Britain.

The committee is to approach film organizations and request they show non-white peoples in a true light and not as "idiotic servants, inferior to white people"; to make representations to press bodies to bar reports discriminating against non-white men; to ask educational institutions to "ensure the proper teaching of true facts about colored races"; protest to the Ministry of Labor who, it was alleged, gave white men preference over non-whites in allocating jobs; to fight hotel men practicing the color bar; and to try to alter the decision of the British Board of Boxing Control not to allow non-white boxers to participate in the 1948 Olympic Games.

Checkley Paintings, Lively, Virile, Exhibited This Week

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A visit to the Newlyn Art Gallery at 1358 Pandora Avenue, near Fernwood Road, within the next two or three days, would well repay the time spent. In the well-lighted rooms, Miss Stone, artist, teacher and critic, lately of Montreal, is showing a versatile collection of lively, virile paintings by Victoria artist, Arthur Checkley.

Arthur Checkley has long been recognized as one of the city's most skilled artists, but it is in a group of paintings such as this that one is enabled to appreciate fully his high degree of technical mastery, his feeling for form, and his keen insight.

There is a stimulating, and rather rare, imagination in the artist's land and seascapes and it is that imagination that is at the root of his versatile handling of the mediums. Mr. Checkley is not bound to present a brewing storm, a mountain valley, or a twilight grouping of trees, rocks and sea in the identical manner with which he reproduces the glitter of early sun on ruffled water or the brilliance of an October day. From a deeply sym-thetic and understand naturalism in his treatment of the former, he passes to an adaptation of the impressionist school and obtains a wonderfully glowing, vibrant effect of the refraction of light rays in studies which he calls "Golden Autumn" and "The White Cottage."

Light and shadow are special friends of this artist because he uses these values with sincerity, not distorting them so that they become over-dramatic, nor under-estimating their proportionate place in his design. Thus we have "Stronghold," modern, ruggedly stylized mountains and rock faces dipping to the sea, but done with a restraint that avoids harshness, expressing a power and a permanence that are fundamental. French tempera is the medium used for this study, while "Genesis," similar in technique, is a fugue in oils; theme and counter-theme, both in color and line, being stated, repeated and developed in a beautifully integrated pattern. In this group there is also "Rhythm," a study of hills, sea and sky with barren tree trunks in the foreground. This is a picture that displays Mr. Checkley's mastery of composition in the flow of line and the fine balance of vertical and horizontal forms.

Burns Club Hears Maxwell B. Cody

Members of the Burns Club, holding their regular monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Tuesday evening heard Maxwell B. Cody outline the history of the people of Zorra township, Gengarry and Bruce counties in Ontario.

Rev. W. W. MacPherson opened the meeting with Burns' "Epistle to a Young Friend." Among entertainers were George Scott, who played a number of violin selections; Fred Godsalve and Miss Margaret Kerr, who sang, and J. Foster, who gave a whistling performance.

Vote of thanks to the speaker was given by E. N. Whyte, Dr. Wallace R. Gunn was chairman. The club will hold its annual dinner at the Empress Hotel Jan. 26.

Tension shoe trees should not be used when shoes are wet because they may stretch the leather out of shape. Wet shoes should be stuffed with soft paper to take up moisture inside. The outside of the shoe should be patted with a cloth to soak up excess moisture.

Children's Encyclopedias Pep Up As Editors Consult Small Fry

Walter Yust, editor-in-chief of the Encyclopedia Britannica, gets the opinion of grade school children on three different treatments of the same drawing for possible use in the Junior edition.

NEW YORK—If you're applauding the pepped-up editions of new encyclopedias for children, you can thank the small fry who guided editor's blue pencils.

Before the new M printing of the Britannica Junior went to press, 800 youngsters in grade schools—the encyclopedia is designed for fourth to ninth graders—were called into consultation by Editor-in-chief Walter Yust.

As a result of their firmly expressed opinions on type size, the entire set of 15 volumes was reset in large, clear, black type—a 10-point Caledonia type face on a 12-point slug, to be exact.

Pictures in the new edition were lived up to please young readers. Maps of countries, for example, show pictorially the approximate places where various products are made. This technique not only makes for more interesting maps but it does away with the "long list of things" which children said they found confusing to read. To keep interest from flagging in such ancient history subjects as the building of the pyramids, dramatic model replicas of the process were built by Norman Bel Geddes. These were photographed with trick "stage set" lighting to sharpen the third dimensional effect.

More pictorial improvements were made—after the consultation—in the pictures of animals, birds, fish and the like. Younger children inoffensively supposed centipedes and cowbirds were the same size because they looked the same on paper. New illustrations remedy the misconception by giving approximate sizes as "about twice natural size" for centipedes or "seven to eight inches long" for cowbirds.

One youngster consulted stated positively the only thing that interested him was ice cream. In the new Britannica Junior you'll find, for the first time, an article on guess what? Ice cream.

Even the carefully written articles are not immune from childhood criticism. A 10-year-old boy took the editors to task for a statement in an earlier printing that "Eskimo dogs form one of the few breeds of domestic dogs which do not bark." The boy said they do, too, bark. A breeder of Arctic sled dogs backed up the young critic and the M printing corrects the error.

Many suggestions for new articles come from the questions asked through the Britannica Junior Guild. Youthful set owners want to know most frequently about hobbies. Typical posers are "How do you preserve salmon eggs?" "What should I know to be a good end on my football team?" and "What can you tell me about raising rabbits?"

More questions concern possible careers. Right now, judging from questions, careers with top appeal for children are photography, fashion modeling and meteorology.

Researchers trained in child psychology answer questions of the 364 variety such as "What holds molecules together?" and "How can I quit biting my nails?"

Fifth, Scottish Renew Prewar Rugby Rivalry

When Fifth Regiment rugger take the field against Canadian Scottish in an intermediate fixture preceding Saturday's McKee Cup match between Varsity and the Crimson Tide a great rivalry, dormant since 1936, will be renewed.

These two army units had much to do with the success of the Twickenham sport in the city in prewar days, some of their bitter senior matches drawing tremendous crowds at the James Bay enclosure.

The Fifth Regiment entered senior rugger in 1931 and during the six years the squad performed in the league it captured two city titles and tied for the Rossell Cup, emblematic of provincial rugby supremacy, on one occasion.

When speaking of the Fifth Regiment many names prominent in rugger annals come to the fore. Old timers will remember such stalwarts as Frank Skillings and George Warnock, members of the All-Canadian team which toured Japan.

Others who once held sway in the days a decade ago were Sid and Alec Gaunt, Paul Rowe, Doug Peden, Gordon Smith, Bill Halkett, Ken Fleming, Muzz Patrick, Wally Stipe, George Langdon, Frank and Cyril Doherty. These and many others once wore the colors of the famous Fifth Regiment teams of the past.

LOOK TO FUTURE

Looking to the future the Fifth Regiment has entered an intermediate team for the second half of play with the object in view of fielding a club in the senior loop in two years. Canadian

Three Bouts Set For Mat Show At Armories Saturday

Promoter Rocky Brooks today announced his complete wrestling card for Saturday night's show at the Armories. The program will feature a double main event, each bout scheduled for six 10-minute rounds. First pair of grapplers are set to step through the ropes at 8:30.

In the second half of the double main—Gentleman—Tony Ross of Salem, Ore., will meet Silent Rattan of Toledo, Ohio. Gentleman Tony is rated as one of the toughest, roughest boys on the Pacific coast, a real "bad man."

Silent Rattan is deaf and dumb, the only wrestler in the game who has never talked back to a referee. Rattan weighs 187 pounds, while Gentleman Tony tips the scales at 190.

In the opener, Tarzan Potvin of Montreal, will meet, George Curtis of Mississippi. Potvin has just returned from a successful tour of the British Isles, and is a hard man in the ring. However, in Curtis he is meeting an extremely fast man who shows promise of becoming one of the leading light heavyweights. Curtis weighs 182 pounds, against Potvin's 181, and they will wrestle four 10-minute rounds.

In the second half of the main event Bob Cummings engages Buck Weaver.

Senior Cage Squads In Important Tilt

League leadership of the senior A cage loop will be at stake tonight when K.V.'s tangle with the Y.M.C.A. in the feature hoop tilt at the High School gym.

With clubs shooting for a bye in the postseason playoffs, tonight's game is important for both quintettes. To date the teams have split even in four games, each having identical season records of five wins against three defeats.

Canadian Legion and K.V.'s midjet clubs will open the card at 7 with First United meeting Spencers in an intermediate B boys' game at 7:45.

Aussie Ruggers Compile Great Record

Touring Wallabies Fifteen To Play Three Games In British Columbia

The Wallabies are coming! Who are the Wallabies? English rugby adherents who diligently follow results of matches in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales could probably answer that one. But for those not in the know, the Wallabies are the touring Australian Rugby Union team which will play in Victoria March 6.

The match is being arranged through the British Columbia Rugby Union and will be one of three played in British Columbia by the Australian side. Other matches are against Vancouver Lions and Varsity, both of which are scheduled for Vancouver. Following their appearance in B.C., the Wallabies will play a match against Stanford University in California.

During recent months the Wallabies have been touring Europe playing matches against many international fifteens.

GOOD RECORD

The Aussies won 23 of their first 25 matches in Britain, scoring 335 points, while 164 were scored against them. The team had easy wins over Scotland and Ireland, establishing a record in Scotland when in four games they did not have their line crossed.

Average age of the 30-man squad is 24, while average weight of the forwards is 201 lbs. and of the backs, 164 lbs.

Early in the British tour the team suffered a big loss when their captain, 29-year-old Bill McLean of Brisbane, Queensland, and brilliant left-winger Charlie Eastes of Manly, New South Wales, were injured. McLean suffered a broken ankle while Eastes fractured his wrist.

If Eastes plays on the North American continent Americans and Canadians will see the best rugby winger of the world in action. The starry winger recently refused an offer of $10,000 to turn professional with an English club. He is 22 years old and weighs 182 lbs. and is considered the best wing that Australia has produced in the last 30 years.

Statistics reveal that 22 of the players come from New South Wales, seven from Queensland and one from Victoria.

Veteran of the team is 36-year-old Brisbane policeman Graham Cooke who has been playing international football for 15 years. Known as "Iron Man" Cooke earned the distinction during the team's British tour of becoming the sixth Australian player to represent his country against New Zealand, South Africa and Great Britain.

Youngest player on the squad is a 19-year-old Queenslander, Arch Winning, who is noted for his deadly tackling. A. J. Tancred is manager and trainer of the team and himself an ex-rugby player of note having toured Great Britain in 1927 with the famous Waratahs fifteen.

Brief biographies of some of the standout forwards of the Wallabies reveal some interesting data.

HEAVY SCRUM

Bill McLean, the captain, comes from a long line of footballers. His father represented Queensland and Bill and his two brothers, Doug and Jack, have all played for Australia. Bill himself played for Australia in 1939, 1946 and 1947, captaining the squad in New Zealand in 1946 and in the second test against New Zealand this year.

Keller and Kearney, both forwards played against the All Blacks in 1947 with the latter representing Scotland three times in international service matches during the war. John Fuller, lock forward, who weighs 227 lbs., was a prisoner of war in Japan for 15 months. When released from prison camp he weighed but 140 lbs.

Heaviest player on the Aussie side is Bob McMaster, five feet 11 inches, who tips the scales at 231 lbs. Another heavyweight in the scrum is 230-lb. Joe Kraefft, a 25-year-old player who performed in the second test against New Zealand.

If these lads aren't heavy enough to shove somebody around the Wallabies can call on Philip Hardcastle at 220 lbs., Colin Windon at 196, Nick Sheehy at 226 and Cooke at 210, all of whom are forwards.

Bells Defeat Hornets For First Place Tie

Seattle and Bellingham were squared away today as they headed toward the Jan. 30 close of the first half season tied for first place in the Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League race, three games away from Vancouver and Tacoma.

Bellingham knotted the race last night with a 74 to 60 win over the Canadians to run its win streak to nine straight, longest in the league this season. Rival shotmakers, Bellingham's Gale Bishop and Vancouver's Norm Baker, each hit 19 points, but bowed for individual laurels to the losers' Bill Osterhaus who collected 20.

Seattle gets a chance to take over a temporary lead tonight when they entertain off-defeated Portland, Tacoma and Astoria are scheduled to meet in Astoria. A scheduled meeting last night was postponed.

COME FROM BEHIND

Vancouver led at halftime 37 to 31, but with five minutes of the third period gone Bellingham spurred. The count was tied 44-44 and tied twice again before Bellingham moved out in front to stay.

Babe Ruth Leaves Hospital Shortly

NEW YORK (AP)—Babe Ruth, the former home-run king, is "doing nicely" at the Medical Centre where he is undergoing a physical check, his wife said today.

"I hope to have him back home" within a few days, and next week we plan to go to Florida," Mrs. Ruth said.

The Babe, who will be 53 Feb. 7, underwent a serious neck operation last winter.

Jack Wilson Holds Position At Salem

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jack Wilson has been resigned to again manage Salem Senators of the Western International Baseball League, it was announced Tuesday. ONE OF Victoria's most successful rugby coaches before his departure for mainland points, Dan Doswell was a visitor to the city this week. In recent years Doswell has been located at Dawson Creek with the B.C. Public Utilities Commission and likes the far north. "One thing about that country, one never need worry about too short evenings for your ball games," Doswell said. "You can start play at 7 and go right through until 10:30 and be sure of having plenty of daylight."

DOSWELL, it will be remembered, coached Victoria Crimston Tide to victory in the McKee Cup series. Following his taking up residence at Vancouver, Dan took over the reins at Varsity and led the Thunderbirds to the British Columbia championship. This success as a coach followed a smart career as a member of Victoria club teams and the Tide. Dan also played on several British Columbia all-star aggregations. Since going north Doswell has interested himself in baseball and girls' softball. "We put on a girls' game up there against an imported team and attracted the largest crowd in the history of the park," he said. Within a few weeks Doswell will be moved to Prince George and would appreciate it if any Victorians visiting the interior town would look him up. "Maybe I can arrange a hunting or fishing trip for them."

SPORTS followers soon forget, and it is strange how quickly the name of Hank Luisetti has dropped from the basketball world. There may have been better players before and have been since, but big Hank's career, although short, was sensational. Luisetti retired at 30 due to ill health. He contracted spinal meningitis while in the armed forces.

LUISETTI appeared in New York only three times, played in five games in Madison Square Garden. He went there first in 1936, with Stanford University, and paced a 45 to 31 upset of Long Island University, which had won 43 games in a row. The following year Luisetti had become such an attraction Stanford was booked for two games in the Garden and whipped L.I.U. and City College of New York. On the way home Luisetti astonished basketball devotees by scoring 50 points in a game with Duquesne at Cleveland. In 1942 Luisetti again appeared at the garden with Phillips 66 Oilers for a two-night amateur tournament. He was the stand-out on the court and led Phillips to two victories. At that time Hank was rated an all-time great by basketball critics of the east. Now he has slipped into the ranks of forgotten athletes.

Los Angeles—Paulino Montes, 134%, Hermosillo, Mexico, knocked out Buddy Garcia, 135%, Houston, (8).

McQuinn, New York's 37-year-old first baseman, placed fifth. Cut loose by Philadelphia Athletics after a disappointing season in 1946, McQuinn asked Harris for a chance with the Yanks. He led the league in hitting for a stretch in early spring and played brilliantly at first base.

Hustling Red Wings Seek Undisputed Lead

Detroit Red Wings will be battling for undisputed possession of first place in the National Hockey League when they tackle the Bruins at Boston tonight. The Toronto Maple Leafs, tied with Detroit for first place, don't get another chance until Thursday night.

Tonight's other game has the revitalized Chicago Black Hawks at New York Rangers, and the third-place Rangers confront a cellar-dwelling team hungry for points.

Vancouver Marks Up Decisive Win In Coast Hockey

The Seattle Ironmen worked overtime to do it, but they regained their winning stride with a 4 to 3 victory over the Oakland Oaks last night in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Roy McBride, league leading scorer, pushed in the winning goal at three minutes 46 seconds of the extra session at Berkeley. Oakland led going into the second period, 2 to 0.

The victory was Seattle's first in four games of its present tour of the southern division.

In the only other league game Vancouver's Canucks ran wild over the New Westminster Royals before a home-town gathering of 5,800, 8 to 2.

Bob Ballance and Hermie Gruhn led Vancouver marksmen with two tallies apiece. The game did not affect either team's league standing, with Vancouver remaining in third place and New Westminster holding the fourth slot.

Should the Wings win tonight, the Maple Leafs will try to keep in step with a victory over Montreal Canadiens at Montreal Thursday.

Boston and Montreal are in the saddest plight of any of the N.H.L. teams as they square away for the stretch drive to the play-offs. Against Detroit tonight the Bruins will be minus centre-forward Johnny Gully, who suffered a compound leg fracture Sunday when Bruins lost 4 to 1 at Chicago.

The Canadiens, awaiting the Thursday clash against Toronto, will be without their famous punch line of Toe Blake, Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard. That high-scoring trio was disrupted when veteran Toe Blake suffered a smashed ankle Saturday night in the 1 to 1 tie with Rangers at Montreal.

Habitat hockey officials are still confident that the 35-year-old Blake will be back in action and that Canadiens will make the play-offs.

Mrs. B. A. Westwood, Pioneer, Passes Away

Mrs. Beulah Alvina Westwood, pioneer resident of Vancouver Island, passed away Tuesday afternoon. She was born in Bath, Maine, 84 years ago and came to Victoria in 1887 after her marriage in Berkeley, Calif.

At the age of four Mrs. Westwood, with her parents, made the trip via the Isthmus of Panama to Berkeley. Her father, Capt. Charles Butler, owned and skippered the steamship Beulah, which carried coal between Nanaimo and San Francisco in the early days.

Mrs. Westwood's husband was an accountant and went to Nanaimo to work with the Dunsmuir coal interests in 1887. Forty-two years ago they settled in Victoria.

Mrs. Westwood had been a member of the Women's Canadian Club for many years and of the Christian Science Church. She is survived by one son, Dr. C. N. Westwood, a grandson, Dr. W. N. Westwood, and a great granddaughter, all of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 1.30 at the B.C. Funeral parlors.

Wisner Denies Hart Misled On Power Act Amendment

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner today denied in a statement a charge of Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch that former Premier John Hart had been "either misinformed, misled or double-crossed" at the last session of the Legislature in connection with amendments to the Electric Power Act.

Mr. Winch had suggested that this action had been done by C. H. Locke, K.C., now a member of the Supreme Court of Canada, who then was counsel for the government, or by the Attorney-General's department.

Mr. Wisner said the "whole statement has no factual foundation and contains a gross libel not only on all the members of my department but upon a man who was recognized as one of the outstanding and honorable members of the legal profession in this province."

Some time before the session of the Legislature, Mr. Wisner explained, an appeal had been filed by the B.C. Power Commission from the appraisal report of the American Appraisal Co. on the ground that it had placed too high a valuation on the assets of the companies expropriated. These included the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd., the West Canadian Hydro Electric Corporation Ltd. and the Columbia Power Co. and their subsidiaries.

"At the time the amendments were brought in last session no one, including Mr. Hart and other members of the government, had any knowledge whatever that there was any question about the legality of the appeal from the appraiser's decision," said Mr. Wisner's statement. "In fact, we were advised that the appeal was in perfect order."

The proposed amendments, the statement continued, as it appears by the act itself, had nothing whatever to do with existing litigation.

The amendment was suggested to the government by J. A. Clark, K.C., and R. H. Tupper, counsel for the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities, to give them power to apply for an extension of time to file a cross-appeal from the commission's appeal, Mr. Wisner continued.

Mr. Locke advised the government that it was entirely unnecessary to make any amendments to the act and that he was opposed to granting any further rights of appeal, the statement said.

The government, however, felt that if a right had been taken away by reason of exceptional circumstances, the government should pay whatever was the fair value of the assets expropriated and an amendment was accordingly drawn.

While the amendment was in the process of enactment, counsel for the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities

Ltd. advised that they had abandoned their request for this amendment and the amendment was subsequently withdrawn.

"At that time the Attorney-General's department had never been consulted in relation to, and had no knowledge of any defect in the appeals by the commission, but, on the contrary, had been advised that all of these proceedings were perfectly in order," Mr. Wisner's statement said.

"Some months later the point was taken that the appeal of the commission was not in order, and so far the courts have upheld this contention."

Mr. Winch went on to say that if the Legislature sees fit it can, at the coming session, put in a properly drawn amendment which will wipe out the technical objections to the appeals. Mr. Hart has already suggested that this be done and some months ago gave instructions that an appropriate amendment be drawn for the consideration of the next session.

"For Mr. Winch, on the eve of a by-election, to rush into print with a misleading statement that he, out of the wealth of his legal wisdom, had discovered a dangerous situation which might cost the B.C. taxpayers $1,000,000, under the circumstances outlined above, is a type of political attack that I do not believe will be well received by the citizens of British Columbia," Mr. Wisner said.

He noted that the amendment, which Mr. Winch suggested had been withdrawn during the absence of Mr. Hart from the Legislature, could have been reintroduced when the bill came in for report.

"It must be obvious, also, that His Majesty's Loyal Opposition, which is supposed to watch the progress of these bills, could not have been attending to their duty very carefully if an amendment which they now consider to be of such importance could be withdrawn without any question from them," he said.

Canadians Losing On Savings Returns, Says C.C.F. Speaker

Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Vancouver East, told a political meeting Tuesday night that every dollar returned to Canadians will buy only about half it would when it was saved, paid to the Dominion government under compulsory savings deductions.

Mr. MacInnis was referring to the rising cost of living since the deductions at a meeting at which Colin Cameron, C.C.F. candidate for the Feb. 23 Saanich by-election, outlined his program. The meeting was held in the Tolmie C.C.F. Hall. He claimed that the government had taken money out of the pockets of people least able to afford it.

"An analysis of the effect of the cost of living today shows it is barely touching a small section of the community, affecting another section, and putting a terrific burden on more than half the Canadian people," he said.

Mr. Cameron contended that the course of the Johnson-Anscomb coalition government would be charted to a great extent on what happens in the Saanich and Cariboo by-elections, both of which will be held Feb. 23.

"Unless the voters are prepared to give direction to the present government and provide for an alternative government, we are going to see a repetition of the depression," he said. He claimed that the Coalition had taken over at a fortunate time, with no unemployment or financial worries and fewer social ills and has done little.

Scoring "inaction" of the government on labor legislation, forestry problems and health insurance, Mr. Cameron said that the only source of revenue to replace land taxes would be the net returns from business development and operation of national resources.

"So long as we permit resources of British Columbia to provide large profits for business we will go on paying exorbitant and heavy school taxes," he said.

10 Police Officers Sent To Douk Areas

Ten more B.C. police officers have been sent to the interior Doukhobor areas scene of burnings and terrorism during recent months, Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner reported today.

Mr. Wisner indicated that it would be necessary to take some firm action after he had discussed questions of Doukhobor terrorism with Judge H. J. Sullivan, sole Royal Commissioner appointed to investigate the causes of Doukhobor strife.

Jewelry Articles, Part Of Stolen Loot, Identified

Many articles of jewelry found in the possession of the juvenile and a man apprehended by two city detectives shortly after midnight Tuesday morning have been identified by A. H. F. Stelek, 1214 Old Esquimalt Road, as a portion of the $1,500 worth of jewelry and other articles stolen from his home over the Christmas holiday period.

The pair were picked up by Detectives L. Callan and A. Munro on Blanshard Street. The older person was said by police to be carrying a large, brown club-bag containing a few articles of jewelry.

Thomas Davidson, the elder, appeared in city police court yesterday and pleaded not guilty to a charge of retaining in his possession the following pieces of stolen property: a large pocket watch, a woman's tiny wrist-watch minus the wristband, the club-bag and a gold cufflink, the property of a person or persons unknown.

He will appear in police court again tomorrow. The juvenile was scheduled to appear in the minors' court today.

After court yesterday morning, city detectives who have been combing the city for suspicious characters since the latest outbreak of six home robberies, made a tour of the citizens whose homes had been entered and looted. None of the people in the half-dozen last week-end cases could identify the property as theirs, but Detective F. Woodburn, in interviewing the Steleks, had the large pocket watch and the gold cufflink identified as their property.

Detectives are carrying out investigations to unearth the whereabouts of the remainder of the stolen property.

Radio Theft Charge

Herman Van Dyke elected preliminary hearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today when a charge was read against him alleging theft of an auto radio over the value of $25 owned by Leith Ross yesterday. He was remanded to tomorrow for the hearing.

At 4.20 yesterday afternoon city police attended at the Shell Oil station, Yates and Quadra Streets, and learned from Ross, resident of the Y.M.C.A. and an employee there, that the $78 radio was stolen from his car while it was parked on the grease rack.

Gandhi Continues Fasting Despite Doctors' Advice

NEW DELHI (CP)—Thirty hours after his last meal, Mohandas K. Gandhi disregarded his doctors' advice and in a hoarse whisper spoke to an audience of 500 people who attended his prayer meeting today.

On the second day of his fast, to bring about the unity of Hindus and Moslems, there was no sign of any change in the condition of the Hindu leader except that he did not walk so briskly and his voice was quieter than usual.

Gandhi said the Moslems in Pakistan "should give definite proof of their good will towards Hindus and Sikhs."

(Unconfirmed reports in New Delhi said 1,300 people from Bannu were killed, 700 were wounded and 400 missing in communal fighting Sunday.)

Later Gandhi's doctors said: "We urge the people to realize that every day passed without food increases both the immediate and future danger to Gandhi's life."

2nd Body Found In Dakota Train Wreck

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Wrecking crews early today found a second body in the wreckage of a wooden coach at the rear of a mixed train, demolished Tuesday night when a Great Northern freight train plowed into it at Walden, 45 miles northwest of Fargo.

The bodies were badly mangled and as yet unidentified.

James J. Martin, mail clerk, and Howard Kemis, express messenger, both of Fargo, were brought to a hospital here suffering from cuts and possible internal injuries. The two were in the car immediately ahead of the wrecked coach, which caught fire after the crash. Other trainmen and a woman passenger leaped to safety.

Dutch Woman Executed
AMSTERDAM (Reuter)—The first Dutch woman ever to die in Holland for war crimes, 42-year-old Ans Van Dijk was executed today. She was sentenced last March for betraying many fellow Jews to the Gestapo. Her appeal was rejected in September.

Duncan Kennedy Outlines Work Of Community Planners To Realtors

An explanation of the term "community planning" and a review of steps taken by government and civic bodies for the best possible development of Canadian cities was given by Duncan K. Kennedy, branch manager in-Victoria for the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, at a joint meeting of the Real Estate Board and local chapter of residential appraisers at the Empress Hotel at noon today.

"By community planning we mean the compilation of a basic plan for the community's physical development based on a study of its population and its present and future needs for public services and facilities," Mr. Kennedy explained. "This plan usually includes data dealing with streets, transportation, public utilities, parks and playgrounds, sites for public buildings and the areas best adapted for residential, commercial, industrial and business uses."

Central Mortgage and Housing is a crown corporation for the purpose of studying and furnishing information and guidance in co-operation with any local or other authority in community planning and land subdivision, the speaker continued. As a means of awakening public interest in community planning, the corporation has sponsored the Community Planning Association of Canada, and is assisting financially in the organization of branch associations in each province and in local communities, Mr. Kennedy stated.

Here in British Columbia, it was pointed out, there is an active interest in community planning and many municipalities have created their own town-planning commissions.

Dealing with the situation here, Mr. Kennedy said: "In the compilation of any community plan for Greater Victoria, the interdependence of all municipalities on the southern end of Vancouver Island, together with the B.C. government, should be recognized and thoroughly acted on in unison as our whole future depends on co-ordinated and co-operative efforts."

LAUDS B.C. ACTION

Continuing, the speaker spoke highly of action taken by the provincial Legislature in creating a development and planning division in connection with the department of municipal affairs, with a view of developing industry and employment in rural, planned communities with proper housing, electric power, and other services supplied in a city. Mr. Kennedy noted there had been a tremendous increase of population in the cities of Victoria and Vancouver and pointed out that the "decentralizing process" of the provincial government would do much to provide a balanced productive population throughout the whole of the province.

SUGGESTS COMMUNITY PLANNER

Dealing again with the local situation, Mr. Kennedy said he had been pleased to hear Mayor Percy George say serious consideration would be given this year to the appointment of a traffic engineer for the City of Victoria.

"However," Mr. Kennedy stated, "I would like to recommend for his consideration that in view of transportation studies being only one part of a qualified city community planner, and whereas it probably would not be economical to confine such an important position to traffic studies alone—I should like to suggest that a planning engineer be engaged to draw up a specific basic community plan and further that the adjoining municipalities of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt be asked to join the city in sharing the expense of this engineer's employment and also in the compilation of a Greater Victoria community plan. Surely all municipalities would mutually benefit from such a study."

Judge And Jury Wait Patiently For 2 Accused

An Assize Court panel jury composed of 48 men and Mr. Justice A. M. Manson waited patiently for two hours this morning for two accused who failed to appear in court in time for their trial, scheduled to begin at 10.

The accused were Robert McMillan and Jack R. McClellan of Vancouver, both charged with breaking and entering the Top Notch Cafe, 2204 Douglas Street, on Oct. 27, with intentions of committing theft.

The accused had been under bail of $2,000 each, securities of which were furnished by two Vancouver women.

Reasons for the accused failing to appear in time for their trial were not given in court when the case opened at noon today.

Crown Prosecutor W. C. Moresby, K.C., said before the trial opened that the bail would not be estreated because there "had been a mistake." The men had not been informed that their trial was scheduled to open today, he said.

He said warrants were issued yesterday for the apprehension of the two men, who were escorted to Victoria under custody.

McMillan and McClellan are not represented by counsel.

5-Day, 40-Hour Week, $15 Pay Boost Among New Demands Of Police Union

A five-day 40-hour week and an increase in pay of $15 a month, retroactive to May 1 last year, for all members of the union, are among the demands of the Victoria City Police Federal Union, Local No. 251, being sought in the new agreement, the Board of Police Commissioners heard at its first meeting of 1948 Tuesday afternoon. Mayor Percy George, chairman, presided.

Constable Nap Bouchard, union bargaining representative, and George Wilkinson, union business agent, spoke on changes wanted by the union. Also present were newly-elected officers, Sgt. Walter Andrews, president; Detective Alex Briggs, vice-president; Constable Norman Galbraith, secretary-treasurer. (Constable William Andrews is the recording secretary.)

On a recommendation by Mr. Wilkinson it was decided the union will present a brief detailing its agreement changes within a week. After the commission has had time to peruse the document a special meeting will be called to deal with that subject only.

Briefly the following is sought: Boot allowance to the members of the force raised from $15 to $20, including the janitors. Annual clothing allowance for detectives, plainclothes constables and police women raised from $140 to $150.

WANT 3-WEEK VACATIONS AFTER 10 YEARS

A 40-hour week instead of the present 44 hours, to be worked in the following manner:

Five consecutive days with an eight-hour tour of duty per day. Three weeks annual holidays with pay starting this year, after the 10th year of service. (Present arrangement is two weeks holidays up to 15 years of service.)

Add Armistice Day and Boxing Day to the department's statutory holiday list. (This makes eight statutory holidays. Under the last agreement only six are allowed.)

Other points the union will talk over with the commission include increased pay for sergeants and detectives. Cons. Bouchard said the union feels there should be a wider gap in favor of the two over the first-class constable on the wage scale, that the present $15 difference is not sufficient to warrant the increased responsibilities assumed. The first-class constable now receives $190 a month and the sergeant and detectives $205.

The officer had a grin with his negative reply to Mayor George's jocular question if it would meet the situation by lowering the first-class constable's salary.

DETECTIVES WANT OLD HOURS BACK

Det. Briggs noted the desire in the plainclothes department to revert back to the old-time schedule of work from 8 to 4. After the signing of the last agreement, he said, the detectives' tour of duty had been increased to 8 to 5 because the hour for lunch was not counted in the eight hours, this in spite of the fact members home to lunch were subject to call at any moment during that time. This change, he said, had only been put into effect in the detective department.

Cons. Bouchard asked the commission to do something about the matter of enabling the police women to have shorter hours. He noted that while they were on a 44-hour schedule last year, the amount of work they had to do resulted in them putting in much more time.

The commission will also give consideration to the matter of adopting the "check-off" system, in which the city deducts the union dues from members' pay cheques and forwards them to the secretary-treasurer.

It was stressed that all cases where more money is being asked for in the new agreement is due to the greatly increased cost-of-living since the 1947 agreement was signed early last year. "If there had not been such a big rise in the cost-of-living index, say it had only gone up five or 10 points since the last agreement, there would have been no trouble on wages on this occasion," Mr. Wilkinson told the meeting.

Police Board Briefs

Commissioner James Neeley, elected to office in the December elections to replace W. W. McTavish, was welcomed to the Board of Police Commissioners by Mayor Percy E. George, chairman, at Tuesday's first meeting of the year. Com. Neeley promised the mayor he would do his level best in his new role as a police commissioner.

The meeting accepted the recommendation of Chief of Police John A. McLellan, recovering in St. Joseph's Hospital from grievous injuries sustained when he was hit by a falling fire ladder last month, that A/Chief John Blackstock receive a salary of $290 a month in his present post. The acting chief constable said he would be satisfied with that figure. It was pointed out a chief's regular salary is $390 a month.

When the commission gets together with the police union representatives at a near-future date to discuss new features desired in the agreement, the policemen will ask the police legislative group to consider a transportation pass for all members of the department. Under the new transportation franchise passes were wiped out for policemen.

In explaining the merits of the "check-off" system to the board, a system whereby the city would deduct union dues from the pay cheques and forward the same to secretary-treasurers, George Wilkinson, business agent for the union, remarked, "If every taxpayer were put on the check-off system it would make a much happier man out of the official in charge of tax collections."

It was revealed at the meeting that Chief McLellan will still be encased in a cast until at least March as a result of his multiple injuries. The chief is scheduled to go on the superannuation roll at the end of 1948.

A/Chief Blackstock was given the go-ahead to make arrangements in regard to remuneration and transportation with Esquimalt to loan Constable Brooke Douglass to the municipality for the purpose of putting a school traffic patrol into operation at the two schools. Patrols are composed of the students. The constable has got the system working throughout the city.

The acting chief was given the power to loan Con. Douglass to any of the municipalities wishing his services for the patrol purpose, but only to the extent of when he is available for this added service.

Commissioner Neeley said he had talked with members of the Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the scheme, and had learned the Kiwanians wish to have a uniform system in operation throughout the area. A different system here and there would confuse the motoring public, he was told.

Board Asks Advice Before Selecting Chief Of Police

The Victoria Board of Police Commissioners, Tuesday, asked Mayor Percy George, chairman, to arrange a meeting with the board, former commissioner of B.C. Police, T. W. S. Parsons, deputy commissioner Roger Peachey and city prosecutor C. L. Harrison for a discussion on policy to adopt in selecting a chief of police and deputy chief for Victoria.

It was stressed the planned conference would not deal with personalities. The commission merely wished to hear suggestions as a guide for its future actions.

Mayor George made it clear that a deputy chief's post was to be a permanent one, not just created for the present circumstances to prepare a man for Chief J. A. McLellan's post when he retires at the end of the year.

DIFFER ON QUALIFICATIONS
Both the mayor and Commissioner James Neeley did not see eye-to-eye with Commissioner Burges Gadsden's idea of the policy he thinks should be followed to determine if a person is qualified for the deputy's position as outlined by him in letters to the chief magistrate.

Commissioner Gadsden expressed the opinion a suitable candidate should be a person not over 45 years; not less than seven to 10 years active police duty; having a certificate from a recognized police school; of good moral and religious character; a good war record and an education of senior and not less than junior matriculation.

Mayor George was opposed on the grounds it wrecked the chances of promotion to the upper brackets for the "old school" of the force—members of long service—as they could not fill some of the features.

The chairman said he had studied the records of the last 30 men taken on strength and found them on a new standard, but even at that they could not fit the qualification list.

To select such a candidate, he thought, would mean going outside the department "and we don't want that."

Here Commissioner Neeley emphasized "we have to decide the best men on our own force for both positions."

All three members of the board were in favor of more police school training for members of the department. It was stressed the R.C.M.P. College held at Regina—which Det-Insp. Harry Mercer and Acting Chief J. Blackstock will attend this year—is the finest police school in Canada and the commission saw a big advantage to the city force in sending officers to it.

128 Accidents On City Streets In December; No Deaths

In spite of the fact there were 128 traffic accidents on the city's roads during December, no persons were killed or seriously injured, it was revealed in the year-end monthly report submitted to police commissioners at their meeting Tuesday by A/Chief John Blackstock. Twenty-eight persons were injured in the minor categories. Up to the end of November the traffic death toll was 12 persons.

Police court fines during the month totaled $3,258. Persons fined, including prepaid fines, aggregated 807. Twenty were sentenced to jail without option—third-time drunks. Two persons were committed for trial, seven got suspended sentences and 30 persons up for intoxication in a public place had their $10 bail estreated.

A particularly noteworthy achievement of the department during the month was that while only eight bicycles were reported stolen policemen located 16.

One juvenile was charged with dangerous driving, two others charged with indictable offences. Stolen property value was $3,180, of which $1,432 worth was recovered. Property lost was valued at $1,507 and $206 worth of it was recovered.

The department received 1,605 reports for attention.

How to Help Yourself to Better Service

Yes, we know that telephone service isn't up to standard these days. That doesn't mean that we're not doing our best to serve you. As a matter of fact, despite shortages of so many things needed in a telephone system, we are serving more people than ever before. Our effort to give service to as many people as possible with the limited facilities available is the major cause of service deterioration. Our exchanges are carrying too big a load of telephone calls.

Naturally, there are now more party-line telephones than ever before. However, party-line telephone users can help to relieve the present situation by adopting a "good neighbor" policy toward those with whom they share the line -- that is, by

1. Making their telephone conversations shorter, and
2. Reducing the number of non-essential calls.

'Slave Girl' On Plaza Screen

They do things the hard way in movie making. Universal-International studio picked the hottest day of the summer, with the temperature near the 100 mark, to suspend Yvonne De Carlo over a red-hot iron bed for a torture chamber scene in the technicolor "Slave Girl," which comes tomorrow to the Plaza Theatre.

She was hanging over the "hot cot," as Director Charles Lamont called it, while Albert Dekker, "grilled" her on information about her secret lover, played by Carl Esmond.

IT'S TOO BIG FOR ITS BRIDGES—What to do with a steel tank that turned out to be too big for any of the bridges leading to its destination only a few miles away? That's the problem facing a St. Louis, Mo., boiler works which made the huge shell pictured above. They decided the 15x30-foot, 30-ton tank may have to be sealed and floated across the Mississippi for delivery to its purchaser.

ATLAS THEATRE

For some time now Richard Widmark was the actor. Broadway stage and radio producers always thought of first when they had a "sweet guy" part to cast. He built up quite a reputation as a portrayal of nice young men. But that's all changed now.

In complete reversal, Director Henry Hathaway cast Widmark in the role of "Udo," ruthless killer who harasses actor Mature—himself a gangster. In Twentieth Century-Fox's "Kiss of Death," which is now at the Atlas Theatre.

Widmark was chosen for the part because the man after whom the role was patterned was a quiet, self-effacing youth, whose ego fed on murder, and who actually relished his job of paid killer.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Selmer Jackson, who appears in "Her Husband's Affairs," now at the Capitol Theatre, as the judge who deals with the marital conflict of Lucille Ball and Franchot Tone, is a native of Lake Mills, Iowa, where he was a Winnebago County judge before embarking on a career as an actor.

When Jackson reported for work on the Columbia film, S. Sylvan Simon, director of the Ben Hecht-Charles Lederer comedy, enlisted the actor as a technical advisor on the difficult courtroom scenes.

RIO THEATRE

During the filming of "That Brennan Girl," now at the Rio Theatre, Michele Morgan and Patrick Nerney would visit the set and chat amiably while their mates, William Marshall, husband of the French actress, and Mrs. Nerney—in reel life known as Mona Freeman—waxed romantic and kissed warmly for benefit of camera.

Latest Ban On Trains To Stop Them Whistling

EDMONTON (CP)—Prohibition of train whistling and bell ringing in Edmonton is a possibility.

The city council has agreed in principle to ordering the prohibition and gave all but final approval to a new by-law. A copy was sent to the federal Board of Transport Commissioners for study.

Representatives of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways told the council the railways will obey the by-law if passed, but commented the companies will seek relief from responsibility for accidents.

'Foxes Of Harrow' At Royal Tomorrow

British actor Rex Harrison is really beginning to feel in the Hollywood groove. The big osculatory moment comes in "The Foxes of Harrow," Twentieth Century-Fox's filmization of Frank Yerby's sensational best-seller, opening tomorrow at the Royal Theatre. And the occasion for Rex's puckered lips is none other than gorgeous Maureen O'Hara.

It will be recalled that in his picture, "Anna and the King of Siam," the fact that he was king took all the fun out of life for Rex, and his relationship with Irene Dunne was strictly on an academic plane. As the ghost in "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," it was all spiritual with Gene Tierney; no holding hands, no nothing. But in "The Foxes of Harrow" things are different. Harrison appears as the dashing and reckless Mississippi gambler, Stephen Fox, and Miss O'Hara is the aloof and aristocratic Creole beauty, Odalie, who keeps cold-shouldering this impetuous and presumptuous fellow. But not for long.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Under Colorado Skies," the new Republic Monte Hale picture filmed in lavish technicolor, which is now at the Dominion Theatre, does not stint on thrills and suspenseful action.

In this tune-filled musical western, Monte plays the role of a young Texas medical student earning his way through school by working summers as a bank clerk. In off-hours he is romancing pretty Julia Collins. But their romance fractures when the bank is heisted by the Marlowe gang and Monte is found standing over the dead bank presi-

'The Hurricane' Dramatic Saga

Samuel Goldwyn knew that he had a truly great picture in "The Hurricane," which comes to the York Theatre tomorrow with Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall heading a great cast which includes Mary Astor, Sir Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, Raymond Massey, John Carradine and Jerome Cowan.

In this dramatic saga of the South Seas, written by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, he was confident he had a story rich in every element of cinematic entertainment. And under the direction of John Ford, the story has been translated into a picture which surpasses even the producer's fondest expectations.

Paterson Drops Suit
Against Ring Board

LONDON (Reuter)—Jackie Paterson's law suit against the British Boxing Board of Control over his world and British Empire flyweight championship titles ended in chancery court Tuesday by consent of both parties.

Paterson brought action against the board last October to restrain it from recognizing anyone but himself as world and British Empire champion and obtained an interlocutory injunction against them.

Tuesday Mr. Justice Jenkins made an order staying all further proceedings in the action when he learned that the board had reinstated Paterson in his championship titles after having deprived him of them when he failed to attend a weigh-in for a world title fight with Dado Marino of Hawaii at Glasgow, July 16.

Answering Your Questions ABOUT IMPORT CONTROL

MOST of the countries which are Canada's regular customers have not recovered sufficiently from the war to pay, in the normal way, for all the goods they need, despite extensive help from this and other countries. Nor are they able to send us enough of their goods to balance accounts—or to pay us in the kind of money which we, in Canada, can use to buy goods in other countries.

At the same time, Canada has been buying more goods than ever before from the United States and other countries demanding U.S. dollars. This is because these goods were not obtainable elsewhere and because of demand pent-up during the war.

Buying from the United States or U.S. dollar areas must, therefore, be temporarily reduced until our trading again becomes normal.

To meet this emergency, purchase of goods and services or expenditures for travel, which must be paid for with U.S. dollars, are now subject to control.

IF YOU ARE AN IMPORTER OF CONSUMER GOODS and wish to find out what goods are (1) prohibited, (2) subject to quota, or (3) unaffected by controls, see or write your nearest Collector of Customs and Excise.

IF YOU WISH TO IMPORT GOODS SUBJECT TO QUOTA and wish to establish your quota authorization to import, or need special information, consult your nearest Collector of Customs and Excise. Quota application forms (E.C. 1) and instructions for completing them, are available at all Customs Offices. These applications must be filed with the Collector of Customs and Excise.

IF YOU WISH INFORMATION ON THE AMOUNT OF YOUR QUOTA. After your application has been filed with your Collector of Customs and Excise, all correspondence about the establishment of quotas or cases of exceptional hardship through import prohibitions should be directed to Emergency Import Control Division, Department of Finance, 490 Sussex Street, Ottawa. Quotas are issued on a quarterly basis and any unused portion may be carried over into the following quarter.

IF YOU ARE AN IMPORTER OF PRODUCTION PARTS, STRUCTURAL STEEL, stone, machinery or other capital goods or automobiles, and wish to know the import restrictions in these classifications, write or see Emergency Import Control Division (Capital Goods), Department of Reconstruction and Supply, 385 Wellington Street, Ottawa.

IF YOU INTEND TO TRAVEL OUTSIDE CANADA and wish to know about foreign exchange available for this purpose, consult any bank or the Foreign Exchange Control Board at Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, Vancouver. If you wish information about personal purchases of goods made during travel outside Canada, consult the nearest Collector of Customs and Excise before departure.

IF YOU ARE A MANUFACTURER, WHOLESALE OR RETAILER and wish information about excise taxes, or about the list of goods to which they apply, consult the nearest Collector of Customs and Excise.

IF YOU NEED OTHER SOURCES OF IMPORTS consult the Foreign Trade Service, Department of Trade and Commerce (Import Division), Ottawa, regarding your supply problems arising from import quota restrictions. Through the Trade Commissioner Service, the Import Division is endeavouring to arrange increased supplies from the United Kingdom and other "non-scheduled" countries.

IF YOU ARE A HOUSEWIFE and wish information on available alternate foods which have comparable nutritional values to those now prohibited or subject to quota, informational material which has been prepared by the Nutrition Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare may be secured from your Provincial Health Department or local health unit.

The administration of these emergency import controls is the responsibility of various departments of the Government. The above information is given to aid Canadian citizens in complying with the new import control regulations with a minimum of inconvenience in their business and personal affairs.
